Senator Says 'Lousy Politics' Slows Action On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today so much "lousy politics" has been injected into the Senate's debate on a new farm bill that he nas given up forecasting when it will act on the measure.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), chief administration spokesman on the bill in the Senate, said, "We might get through by Friday night, but there are plenty of unsettled controversies."

Ellender, chairman of the Agriculture Committee who had been urging final action on the bill by last weekend, said:

"We are just drifting into lousy politics and that goes for both sides. I've quit predicting when we'll ever get through with it. We are engaging in pure demagoguery."

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California apparently agreed upon a slower pace after several 12-hour sessions last week brought only slow progress.

The Senate quit after an eight-hour session yesterday and planned about the same today.

One amendment adopted 78-11 yesterday would (a) limit to $100,000 the amount of price support loans any one farm operator could receive in a year and (b) limit to $25,000 the amount of payments to one farm under the proposed soil bank program.

Pending overnight was a new dispute over price supports—a "domestic parity" plan for wheat sponsored by a bipartisan group of wheat state lawmakers headed by Sen. Carlson (R-Kan). It calls for 100 per cent of parity returns to wheat farmers for that part of the crop consumed domestically for human food.

With more than 80 farm bill amendments still pending, Ellender complained that the Senate yesterday used eight hours "just to complete one amendment."

Actually a number of suggested changes were handled in a hybrid compromise.

Sen. Williams (R-Del) first proposed a $25,000 ceiling on crop support loans to one farmer in a year.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) offered a substitute to raise the ceiling to $50,000 but give all farmers 90 per cent price supports on the first $5,000 of their basic crop production. He said this would help small farmers. Humphrey lost on a 56-36 roll call.

Williams agreed to boost his price support limit to $50,000, a figure suggested by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) and others. Sen. Russell (D-Ga) then suggested this be upped to $100,000.

Russell, Ellender and other senators contended small farmers would be hurt most by a low ceiling. They argued that big operators, including corporation farms, might refuse to follow planting limits and dump heavy production on the markets if they could not qualify for price supports.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), by a 84-9 vote, won acceptance of the $25,000 top limit on soil bank payments on one farm in any one state. Russell's $100,000 limit won approval on a voice vote and the revised Williams-Jenner proposal then was nailed into the bill 78-11.

Glen Allen Resigns Position with C of C

Glen Allen--resigns Chamber of Commerce post

Glen Allen, who came here from Dayton as the manager of the Chamber of Commerce, submitted his resignation to the board of directors at the regular meeting Monday night and today the board is looking for his successor.

Charles Reinke, the president of the Chamber, said Tuesday morning that "we hate to lose Glen, but we didn't want to stand in his way."

He added that he has done a good job here and the board accepted his resignation with deep regret."

With two of three possible exceptions, none of the directors knew of Allen's decision to leave until he announced his resignation at the meeting.

He said he had gone to the three towns of Spray, Leaksville and Draper, just over the Virginia border in North Carolina last week end in response to an inquiry from one of the businessmen there.

When he left, he said, he had no idea that he would take the position of Chamber manager there, but after he had discussed the prospects and plans with the business and industrial leaders there Sunday, he explained, that "it looked like just too big a challenge, too good an opportunity, to pass up."

His resignation is effective April 14 and he and Mrs. Allen and their son and daughter plan to leave then for their new home.

ALLEN SAID with a grin that his new position carried an increase in salary, but he did not say how much.

Allen said his first job would be to organize the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce and then he explained that the membership already had been enrolled (at $50 each compared to $30 here) and the budget money in the bank.

The three towns of Spray, Leakville and Draper, he said are actually one city of about 21,000 population within an area of a 3-mile radius.

He said he understood that plans for development of the area call for consolidating all three towns into one city.

"It's a tremendous challenge as well as an opportunity," he said as he handed out a prepared statement:

"On April 16, I will begin my new

Needs of Hospital Here Are Outlined To Advisory Board

A group of approximately 20 men, representing every section of Fayette County, has been asked to assist in sampling public opinion here and report on public reaction toward adoption of some type of plan for improvement of facilities and provision for more needed room at Memorial Hospital here.

These men are members of the Memorial Hospital Advisory Committee which has been in existence for several years. It is called in by the hospital's board of trustees when the board desires advice and information on public opinion on a major problem or proposal affecting the hospital's future.

Following a brief regular monthly meeting of the trustees Monday night at the hospital, nearly all the members of the advisory committee met in an informal conference with the board.

Marlyn Riley, new president of the hospital board, took over his duties at this meeting after George Pensyl, retiring president, completed his term of office.

Riley opened the joint meeting of trustees and advisory committee with a statement outlining the problems at hand and needs faced by the hospital.

The hospital administrator, Miss Christene Evans, and other members of the board filled in with facts and figures.

Riley stated that no commitments have been made as yet and there are no definite plans or positive estimates on possible improvements.

THE MEETING became one of questions and answers without attempt at decisions. Virtually everyone took part in the discussion, including members of the medical and surgical staff.

Riley told the group that the chief purpose of the discussion was to start people thinking about the hospital requirements without clear-cut details as yet toward a solution.

It was pointed out during the discussion that the hospital here has been operating almost constantly at full capacity for some time and that nearly every day some patients have to be placed in beds in the corridors until room space becomes available.

Surgical, medical, laboratory and X-ray department facilities have reached the limit of present possibilities, it was stated.

It was further stated that the hospital faces a test as to whether it shall be financed and improved to provide Fayette County with an ideal medical center with more rooms and more complete modern facilities.

Military Chief Sees No Need To Up Defenses

'Vast Destruction' Due Aggressor Anywhere, Cabinet Officer Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson declared today that American "capability of inflicting vast destruction" on any aggressor "cannot be thwarted."

He said the United States "is sure to surpass its potential enemies" in some aspects of missile development. But he added that "from time to time they will surpass us in other individual respects."

Wilson said in a speech for the National Press Club that the "real fundamental" in the world today is that the United States now has, and will have for the foreseeable future, "the capability of inflicting vast destruction upon any aggressor anywhere in the world. This capability cannot be thwarted."

The defense secretary asserted that this American retaliatory force can be applied "regardless of a massive surprise attack on our country and regardless of defensive maneuvers of the aggressor."

IN AN APPARENT reference to current congressional criticism of the administration's defense program and claims that the Soviet Union is ahead in new weapons, Wilson declared: "No recent development and no foreseeable development will basically change" United States ability to hit back decisively.

The secretary also argued against those, like Sen. Russell (D-Ga), who would give the Air Force more money this year to buy bombers and develop missiles. Russell has suggested adding $1½ billion to the defense budget for these purposes.

Without mentioning any critic by name, Wilson stated:

"There does not appear to be any need to importantly increase the defense budget above the figures currently before Congress."

Wilson said attempts to make plane-for-plane and like comparisons of U. S. and Russian military strength fail to take into account differing Soviet and American requirements.

He said "our problems are quite different and our defense needs must be governed by far more than Soviet statistics."

Baldridge Case Carried Up To Appeals Court

Defense attorneys have carried the George Baldridge case to the court of appeals, where the case was filed Monday after notice of appeal had been file here.

Also filed in the Court of Appeals was an application to release Baldridge from the Ohio Penitentiary on bail, pending outcome of the action in the Appeals Court.

Another application asks for extension of time until May 15 for filing briefs in the case.

The motion to obtain Baldridge's release is in the nature of an application for a stay of execution of sentence and it was noted in the application that the Common Pleas Court here had refused a stay of execution.

Baldridge was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for one to 20 years two days after the jury had found im guilty of first degree manslaughter in the slaying of Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick. He was taken to the Ohio Penitentiary a few hours later.

The next step will be a hearing on the applications filed in the Court of Appeals, after which the court will pass on the applications.

Action in the Court of Appeals was signed by Emory S. Smith, W. S. Paxson and Ernest G. Little, the latter being a new attorney in the case, from Portsmouth.

Judge E. S. Young's name did not appear on the application, although he had been chief counsel for Baldridge.

American Legion Birthday Salute

By FR. RICHARD CONNELLY
(Past Chaplain of American Legion)

Each Fourth of July, Americans celebrate Independence Day—the birthday of the United States of America. That gloriously hallowed day celebrates the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the inspired document which brought to a God-fearing and God-loving people the greatest freedom the world has ever known.

No one couid cherish that freedom more than the men and women who have fought for it. These same men and women celebrate this week (March 15 to 17) another memorable birthdate in the history of our country—the 37th anniversary of the birth of the American Legion.

Today we are turning the pages of the greatest chapter in the stirring history of this greatest of all veterans' organizations. Today over 3,000,000 veterans proudly wear the American Legion button. That button not only bears evidence that they served honorably in World War I or in World War II or in the Korean War, but, of more significance, that they are still serving their God and their country.

Thirty-seven years ago this week, the American Legion was born in Paris, France. There, on March 15, 16 and 17, American servicemen representing most of the units of the first AEF, together with sailors and marines, met in an historic caucus to find a way of perpetuating their wartime association.

The founders of the American Legion struck an original formula that probably cold not have been

Cypriots Continue Strikes of Protests

NOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — An anti-British strike continued in Cyprus today, keeping commercial life on the riot-torn island almost at a standstill for the second day.

The spontaneous shutdown by Cypriot shopkeepers and workers is protesting Britain's exile of Archbishop Makarios, leader of the union-with-Greece movement. A few shops hesitantly opened their doors this morning but closed again as word spread to continue the protest.

Business places in the Turkish and Armenian quarters remained open.

Defiant teen-agers stoned police in Nicosia, and mobile reserves and military forces were called up to disperse the demonstrators.

Court records disclosed that a 76-year-old nearly blind priest of the Greek Orthodox archbishopric has been arrested and faces a possible death sentence for carrying a loaded revolver. However, the priest was released on $140 bail for a hearing March 20.

As tensions continued to mount, a U.S. State Department spokesman in Washington said the United States has suggested to Britain that she find some way of resuming negotiations with Cypriot leaders in the dispute over the island's future.

Greek Foreign Minister Spyros Theotokis announced that his government was making vigorous representations to the United States over recent developments on the British island colony in the eastern Mediterranean which Greece wants to annex.

First Election on In New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) — The first primary election in the 1956 political campaigns and the first test of strength between two Democratic presidential contenders began today in the "weather vane" state of New Hampshire.

Only the names of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and President Eisenhower are listed on the presidential preference portion of the first-in-the-nation ballot.

The names of Stevenson for President and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for vice president were written on the ballot by two voters in Millsfield.

The two Republican voters in that town wrote in the name of Sen. Bridges (R-NH) for vice president. He also drew a write-in vote for vice president in Ellsworth.

In the 1952 presidential election, Millsfield cast eight ballots — all for President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army called today for 12,000 draftees in May, double the monthly quotas in each of four preceding months.

The Army said the increased quota is part of a plan to give early releases in June to about 8,000 draftees who normally would complete their regular 24 months of service in July and August.

The men scheduled for early release have had little or no overseas service and do not have enough draft time left to justify assignment abroad, officials said.

American Legion Birthday Salute

By FR. RICHARD CONNELLY
(Past Chaplain of American Legion)

Each Fourth of July, Americans celebrate Independence Day—the birthday of the United States of America. That gloriously hallowed day celebrates the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the inspired document which brought to a God-fearing and God-loving people the greatest freedom the world has ever known.

No one couid cherish that freedom more than the men and women who have fought for it. These same men and women celebrate this week (March 15 to 17) another memorable birthdate in the history of our country—the 37th anniversary of the birth of the American Legion.

Today we are turning the pages of the greatest chapter in the stirring history of this greatest of all veterans' organizations. Today over 3,000,000 veterans proudly wear the American Legion button. That button not only bears evidence that they served honorably in World War I or in World War II or in the Korean War, but, of more significance, that they are still serving their God and their country.

Thirty-seven years ago this week, the American Legion was born in Paris, France. There, on March 15, 16 and 17, American servicemen representing most of the units of the first AEF, together with sailors and marines, met in an historic caucus to find a way of perpetuating their wartime association.

The founders of the American Legion struck an original formula that probably cold not have been

Home Demonstration Agent Retires from Position Thursday

Mrs. Mitylene Finken, acting home demonstration agent for Fayette County, will be retiring this week. She resigned several weeks ago and will end her service here Thursday.

Mrs. Mitylene Finken

W. W. Montgomery, County Agent here, said Ohio State University has no one available at this time to replace Mrs. Finken but they are hopeful that after June graduation there will be a Home Economics graduate available as permanent demonstration agent here.

Mrs. Finken's husband, who has been serving with the U. S. Air Force in Japan is expected to return to the states soon.

In order to take care of the heavy 4-H club load at this time of the year, Mrs. Jess Crago of the Miami Trace Road will assist with the girls' 4-H club work and the organization work of the Home Demonstration Councils.

Mrs. Crago is president of the 4-H Council, a member of the Extension Advisory Committee, has served five years as a 4-H club advisor and is familiar with the 4-H program.

MRS. FINKEN came to Fayette County in August to serve as acting demonstration agent here, with the assumption that she would leave when her husband finished his Air Force service.

A graduate of Ohio State University, Mrs. Finken worked as a buyer at Rike's Department Store in Dayton after graduation from OSU in 1954. She is originally from near Lynchburg in Highland County.

Philip Grover associate agent here, said the Extension Service here has been without a permanent home demonstration agent since Mrs. Olive Woodyard resigned in the fall of 1954.

Mrs. Finken's husband will be discharged from the Air Force after he arrives in the U. S. some time early in May. He is a graduate in agriculture from Ohio State University.

Mrs. Finken has not said what their plans are.

First Election on In New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) — The first primary election in the 1956 political campaigns and the first test of strength between two Democratic presidential contenders began today in the "weather vane" state of New Hampshire.

Two tiny towns, Millsfield and Ellsworth, completed their votes only minutes after midnight.

Millsfield split its four votes evenly between President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson. Ellsworth, where six ballots were cast, gave five votes for President Eisenhower. The sixth was a blank.

Only the names of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and President Eisenhower are listed on the presidential preference portion of the first-in-the-nation ballot.

The names of Stevenson for President and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for vice president were written on the ballot by two voters in Millsfield.

The two Republican voters in that town wrote in the name of Sen. Bridges (R-NH) for vice president. He also drew a write-in vote for vice president in Ellsworth.

In the 1952 presidential election, Millsfield cast eight ballots — all for President Eisenhower.

Cypriots Continue Strikes of Protests

NOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — An anti-British strike continued in Cyprus today, keeping commercial life on the riot-torn island almost at a standstill for the second day.

The spontaneous shutdown by Cypriot shopkeepers and workers is protesting Britain's exile of Archbishop Makarios, leader of the union-with-Greece movement. A few shops hesitantly opened their doors this morning but closed again as word spread to continue the protest.

Business places in the Turkish and Armenian quarters remained open.

Defiant teen-agers stoned police in Nicosia, and mobile reserves and military forces were called up to disperse the demonstrators.

Court records disclosed that a 76-year-old nearly blind priest of the Greek Orthodox archbishopric has been arrested and faces a possible death sentence for carrying a loaded revolver. However, the priest was released on $140 bail for a hearing March 20.

As tensions continued to mount, a U.S. State Department spokesman in Washington said the United States has suggested to Britain that she find some way of resuming negotiations with Cypriot leaders in the dispute over the island's future.

Greek Foreign Minister Spyros Theotokis announced that his government was making vigorous representations to the United States over recent developments on the British island colony in the eastern Mediterranean which Greece wants to annex.

Military Chief Sees No Need To Up Defenses

'Vast Destruction' Due Aggressor Anywhere, Cabinet Officer Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson declared today that American "capability of inflicting vast destruction" on any aggressor "cannot be thwarted."

He said the United States "is sure to surpass its potential enemies" in some aspects of missile development. But he added that "from time to time they will surpass us in other individual respects."

Wilson said in a speech for the National Press Club that the "real fundamental" in the world today is that the United States now has, and will have for the foreseeable future, "the capability of inflicting vast destruction upon any aggressor anywhere in the world. This capability cannot be thwarted."

The defense secretary asserted that this American retaliatory force can be applied "regardless of a massive surprise attack on our country and regardless of defensive maneuvers of the aggressor."

IN AN APPARENT reference to current congressional criticism of the administration's defense program and claims that the Soviet Union is ahead in new weapons, Wilson declared: "No recent development and no foreseeable development will basically change" United States ability to hit back decisively.

The secretary also argued against those, like Sen. Russell (D-Ga), who would give the Air Force more money this year to buy bombers and develop missiles. Russell has suggested adding $1½ billion to the defense budget for these purposes.

Without mentioning any critic by name, Wilson stated:

"There does not appear to be any need to importantly increase the defense budget above the figures currently before Congress."

Wilson said attempts to make plane-for-plane and like comparisons of U. S. and Russian military strength fail to take into account differing Soviet and American requirements.

He said "our problems are quite different and our defense needs must be governed by far more than Soviet statistics."

29 Fires In Ohio 'Deliberately Set'

CLEVELAND (AP)—The director of the Ohio Department of Commerce put the price tag of more than one-third of a million dollars on fires deliberately set by businessmen and householders to collect insurance last year.

W Harper Annat director of the state department, told insurancemen yesterday that 29 fires with a loss of $395,895 were "found to have been set to defraud insurance companies." Another 47 were of incendiary origin or suspicious nature, he said.

Chunks Of Ice Fall Through Roof

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramon Leon Angulo was watching television but the chiller that came through the air didn't show on the screen. It crashed through the roof.

Angulo told sheriff's deputies that he heard a rending noise in an adjacent room. Investigating, he found a hole in the ceiling about 18 inches in diameter. The floor was littered with chunks of ice.

Angulo thought pranksters were at work. But the officers said the home was beneath an airline route and they deduced that ice had slipped from a plane in flight.

Dairymen Plan 1956 Program

Directors Pick Rife As New President

Donald Rife was elected president of the Fayette County Dairy Directors at a meeting of the group Monday evening in the Extension office.

This was the first meeting of 1956 for the Dairy Directors. Two new members were present, Frank Dill of Union Township and Joe Saville of Jasper Township, J. W. Kearney, Wayne Township, a new director, was not present.

Other officers elected were Frank Dill, vice president and Barbara Smith, secretary - treasurer.

The group completed a program and plan of work for 1956-1957. Major activities that will be undertaken in the coming months include a production testing summary meeting in April, the agronomy meeting this spring for a hay and pasture tour, County Fair exhibit in July, tour of C.O.B.A., and agronomy plots at Ohio State University during the second week of September, a county dairy tour in November, dairy banquet in February and work on Brucellosis area test throughout the year.

The members voted to award three trophies at the Junior Fair. The trophies will be given to the champion senior showman, champion 4-H dairy showman and champion dairy exhibitor.

Considerable time was spent in discussing the Brucellosis program in the state. Directors discussed the possibility of getting the free testing program in Fayette County.

THE DAIRYMEN discussed and took account of the county dairy census in planning their program for the year.

The program for the year has as the object "making dairying pay on many farms through increased efficiency, greater volume, reduced feed costs, disease control, selection and breeding of higher producing animals and the adoption of labor saving practices.

Statistics discussed at the meeting included:

Dairying accounted for five percent of the estimated gross cash income to Fayette County farmers in 1954.

There are 542 farmers in the county dairy association, using artificial breeding service. During 1955, 38 percent of all cows—1,958 cows—were bred artificially. The use of "frozen semen" started in April of 1955.

There were 43 commercial dairy farms in Fayette County in 1950 and 45 in 1954. Commercial dairy farms are those farms where dairy products and the sale of cattle provide one half or more of the gross annual sales.

In 1950, 1063 farms here reported 5,318 cows. In 1954, 827 farms reported 4,200 cows. In 1949, 566 farms reported 15,014,138 pounds of whole milk sold. In 1954, 436 farms reported 16,912,985 pounds of whole milk sold.

There were approximately 100 farms producing grade A milk, according to health department records.

There are 15 herds doing DHIA production with 490 cows on test. Three herds are doing owner sampler testing.

The average milk production of all Fayette County cows is 4,026 pounds of milk and 176 pounds of butterfat.

The average milk production of Fayette County D.H.I.A. cows is over 7,000 pounds of milk and 300 pounds of butterfat.

This county has been one of the pioneers in use of bulk tanks. The first one was installed in November, 1953 and as of January, 1956, 35 have been installed or ordered. Two tank trucks, owned by a dairy, make regular pickup.

Nine milking parlors have been installed in the past three years.

Pipe line milkers are in operation on three farms.

There are probably not more than 15 purebred dairy herds in the county.

Miss Truman Plans Plain Nuptial Rites

NEW YORK (AP)—A "very happy" Margaret Truman says she and her silver-haired newspaperman fiance plan a "small, quiet wedding" in Missouri next month.

The 32-year-old daughter of former President and Mrs. Truman will marry Clifton Daniel of the New York Times in the Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church at Independence, Mo. No date has been set.

Her blue-green eyes twinkling, Miss Truman talked about her romance at a news conference the couple held yesterday. Her father announced the engagement earlier in the day at Kansas City.

Daniel, 43, is an assistant to the foreign news editor of the Times. Slender, brown-eyed and handsome, he's the son of a Zebulon, N. C., druggist.

The couple met last November at the home of George Backer, former publisher of the New York Post. Daniel proposed in January. Neither has been married before, and each is an only child

Miss Truman, smiling and excited, told newsmen the wedding will be in the same church where she was a choir girl.

It will be a "small, quiet wedding with the two families," she said. And there will be no "big, white, formal bridal gown," she added. "I never have liked that kind of thing."

Will she continue her career?

"Well," she told newsmen, "I still have to finish up my contract with NBC, and as for later, Mr. Daniel hasn't put his foot down."

Glen Allen Resigns

duties as manager of the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce in Spray, N. C.

"The decision to leave my position here was a difficult one. I know that my family and I will always remember the many friends that we have made here.

"The future of this community rests entirely with you. On May 29 the annual meeting will be held and it will deal with the preliminary master plan as prepared by Miami University.

"A good start has been made in the development of this community, all that remains is your continued co-operation and the pay-off will be a better, more prosperous community.

"It is with deep regret that I leave this position which has given me an opportunity to take part in the activities designed to better our community."

Reinke disclosed that there are several of what he termed "hot prospects" for new industries to locate in the Washington C. H. area, but declined to go into details.

He did say, however, that the standing Industrial Relations Committee had been kept advised of developments along these lines and was in a position to answer any questions.

The president of the Chamber said all the directors will keep an eye out for a new manager for the Chamber. He said they hoped to have one before Allen leaves and before the annual meeting of members, but his tone was not exactly one of confidence. He commented that "Chamber of Commerce men are scarce."

Directors Pick Rife As New President

Donald Rife was elected president of the Fayette County Dairy Directors at a meeting of the group Monday evening in the Extension office.

This was the first meeting of 1956 for the Dairy Directors. Two new members were present, Frank Dill of Union Township and Joe Saville of Jasper Township, J. W. Kearney, Wayne Township, a new director, was not present.

Other officers elected were Frank Dill, vice president and Barbara Smith, secretary - treasurer.

The group completed a program and plan of work for 1956-1957. Major activities that will be undertaken in the coming months include a production testing summary meeting in April, the agronomy meeting this spring for a hay and pasture tour, County Fair exhibit in July, tour of C.O.B.A., and agronomy plots at Ohio State University during the second week of September, a county dairy tour in November, dairy banquet in February and work on Brucellosis area test throughout the year.

The members voted to award three trophies at the Junior Fair. The trophies will be given to the champion senior showman, champion 4-H dairy showman and champion dairy exhibitor.

Considerable time was spent in discussing the Brucellosis program in the state. Directors discussed the possibility of getting the free testing program in Fayette County.

THE DAIRYMEN discussed and took account of the county dairy census in planning their program for the year.

The program for the year has as the object "making dairying pay on many farms through increased efficiency, greater volume, reduced feed costs, disease control, selection and breeding of higher producing animals and the adoption of labor saving practices.

Statistics discussed at the meeting included:

Dairying accounted for five percent of the estimated gross cash income to Fayette County farmers in 1954.

There are 542 farmers in the county dairy association, using artificial breeding service. During 1955, 38 percent of all cows—1,958 cows—were bred artificially. The use of "frozen semen" started in April of 1955.

There were 43 commercial dairy farms in Fayette County in 1950 and 45 in 1954. Commercial dairy farms are those farms where dairy products and the sale of cattle provide one half or more of the gross annual sales.

In 1950, 1063 farms here reported 5,318 cows. In 1954, 827 farms reported 4,200 cows. In 1949, 566 farms reported 15,014,138 pounds of whole milk sold. In 1954, 436 farms reported 16,912,985 pounds of whole milk sold.

There were approximately 100 farms producing grade A milk, according to health department records.

There are 15 herds doing DHIA production with 490 cows on test. Three herds are doing owner sampler testing.

The average milk production of all Fayette County cows is 4,026 pounds of milk and 170 pounds of butterfat.

The average milk production of Fayette County D.H.I.A. cows is over 7,000 pounds of milk and 300 pounds of butterfat.

This county has been one of the pioneers in use of bulk tanks. The first one was installed in November, 1953 and as of January, 1956, 35 have been installed or ordered. Two tank trucks, owned by a dairy, make regular pickup.

Nine milking parlors have been installed in the past three years.

Pipe line milkers are in operation on three farms.

There are probably not more than 15 purebred dairy herds in the county.

MARGARET TRUMAN TO WED NEW YORK NEWSMAN—BUBBLY Margaret Truman and handsome New York Times newsman Elbert (Cliff) Daniel, Jr., head for a news conference in New York following the announcement of their engagement by ex-President Harry Truman in Kansas City. The wedding will be held in Independence sometime in April. Daniel, former Moscow bureau chief for the Times, disclosed that the romance "began six months ago" when he and Margaret met at the home of mutual friends. (International)

Miss Truman Plans Plain Nuptial Rites

NEW YORK (AP)—A "very happy" Margaret Truman says she and her silver-haired newspaperman fiance plan a "small, quiet wedding" in Missouri next month.

The 32-year-old daughter of former President and Mrs. Truman will marry Clifton Daniel of the New York Times in the Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church at Independence, Mo. No date has been set.

Her blue-green eyes twinkling, Miss Truman talked about her romance at a news conference the couple held yesterday. Her father announced the engagement earlier in the day at Kansas City.

Daniel, 43, is an assistant to the foreign news editor of the Times. Slender, brown-eyed and handsome, he's the son of a Zebulon, N. C., druggist.

The couple met last November at the home of George Backer, former publisher of the New York Post. Daniel proposed in January. Neither has been married before, and each is an only child.

Miss Truman, smiling and excited, told newsmen the wedding will be in the same church where she was a choir girl.

It will be a "small, quiet wedding with the two families," she said. And there will be no "big, white, formal bridal gown," she added. "I never have liked that kind of thing."

Will she continue her career?

"Well," she told newsmen, "I still have to finish up my contract with NBC, and as for later, Mr. Daniel hasn't put his foot down."

Israel Accused Of Jordan Attack

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan accused Israeli forces today of attacking a Jordonian border village, killing a 70-year-old woman and injuring three members of the Jordan national guard.

Lt. Col. Mohamed Ishaq, Jordan delegate to the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission, claimed the Israelis fired with automatic weapons and mortars for three hours. He said it was believed return fire from the Jordan guard had hit several Israelis.

duties as manager of the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce in Spray, N. C.

"The decision to leave my position here was a difficult one. I know that my family and I will always remember the many friends that we have made here.

"The future of this community rests entirely with you. On May 29 the annual meeting will be held and it will deal with the preliminary master plan as prepared by Miami University.

"A good start has been made in the development of this community, all that remains is your continued co-operation and the pay-off will be a better, more prosperous community.

"It is with deep regret that I leave this position which has given me an opportunity to take part in the activities designed to better our community."

Reinke disclosed that there are several of what he termed "hot prospects" for new industries to locate in the Washington C. H. area, but declined to go into details.

He did say, however, that the standing Industrial Relations Committee had been kept advised of developments along these lines and was in a position to answer any questions.

The president of the Chamber said all the directors will keep an eye out for a new manager for the Chamber. He said they hoped to have one before Allen leaves and before the annual meeting of members, but his tone was not exactly one of confidence. He commented that "Chamber of Commerce men are scarce."

Glazier Pains Window

LA MESA, Calif. (AP)—A homeowner got a low bid from an unemployed glazier to replace a picture window. Paid him the money and told him to buy the glass and install it.

The owner came home to find the glazier gone and the window installed. There was one glaring error—the glass came a foot short of reaching the window.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: At what age does a woman become adult to her mother? I am 46, married 25 years and have two children. My problem revolves around my mother, who came to live with us two years ago, when newly widowed.

My home was the only one offered her; my two sisters claimed they had "no room." We were happy to have her—so much so that I turned over the entire reign to her. Now she has taken complete control, and we no longer have any say in our own home.

Our main complaint is that she doesn't like any of our friends—neither my woman friends, nor my children's friends nor my husband's friends. One by one they have dropped us because of mother's sharp tongue and insults. She says this one eats too much and we can't afford it (of course we can); that one is too noisy; a third is too bold, etc.

I have tried talking it over with mother, but she gets so excited, and next day she is at the doctor's with high blood pressure. We provide her with spending money and clothing, and never ask for an accounting of the "table money" which my husband (God love him) hands directly to her.

We are desperate. Can you help us? Is it fair? My husband and children are grand about all this, but I know it is affecting their lives, and rather than upset me more, they just keep quiet.

C. B.

DEAR C. B.: Actually the situation is absurd. And obviously it takes two to produce this kind of problem: namely, you AND your mother. It doesn't make sense from the rational view for your mother to rule out your friends, as described. But by your own admission, you gladly turned over "the entire reign" to her, right from the start—so happy were you (!) to have her a member of your household.

What did this hasty abdication of authority on your part signify? Well, your mood of joyful expectancy, in reverting to a child-role in proximity to mama, suggests that you are still pretty infantile in your unconscious feelings about her, and in a hungover anxious desire to be fully "mothered."

Understanding is half of cure, a proverb says; and perhaps this flashback into approximate causes of your stalemate will give you the spunk and perspective to outgrow it.

My idea of all-around fair play in the circumstances is: 1. Give your mother a comfortable bed-living room. 2. Entertain as you wish, and have her stay in her room if she resents your friends or can't be gracious to them as guests. 3. Stand up for justice. Don't be bullied by her blood pressure. If her wilfulness causes conflict that threatens her health, it is her cue to reform—not yours to knuckle under.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

HUSBAND of Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott (above) reports in Los Angeles that she has been missing since May 31, 1955. She reportedly has an income of $2,000 a month, and has $150,000 in a bank. Her husband said he went to a drugstore for toothpaste and when he returned she was gone with the car and $15,500. The car was found a few miles away, but no trace of her has been turned up. (International)

Jaycees Here To 'Speak Up'

Silver Tongues Among Old Members Sought

"Speak Up, Jaycee!"

That's the title of a new contest which members of the Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce will enter for the first time this year.

As the name implies, the contest will give Jaycees a chance to show off their public speaking talents. And if one of the entrants in the contest here is successful, he might eventually emerge as the national champion.

The contest at the local level, scheduled for Monday, will be followed up by a district competition. The winner of that one will go to the state contest and the top competitor in the state will go to the national contest.

The rules require the contestants to prepare five-minute talks on any one of the six principles of the Jaycee creed.

THE SIX principles of the creed: (1) That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

(2) That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

(3) That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;

(4) That governments should be of laws rather than of men;

(5) That Earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and

(6) That service to humanity is the best work of life.

So far, five members of the Washington C. H. Jaycees have signed up to take part in the contest here, scheduled to be held at 7:30 P. M. Monday in the Chamber of Commerce offices here.

The next in the upward ladder of contests will be at the district meeting, to be held at the Country Club here on March 24. The winner of that one will take a $25 prize to the state contest. And the state winner will be awarded $50 toward his expenses en route to the national competition in Kansas City this summer.

Any additional entrants in the contest had better polish up their tonsils soon, Jaycee leaders recommend. All entrants are to register at the C of C office here "immediately."

Chest Clinic Will Be Held Thursday

The Fayette County Health Department chest clinic, the every-other month opportunity for residents here to check their chest health, will be held Thursday afternoon at the health department offices.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior nurse at the health department stated that Dr. Damon Wetterauer, medical director at Mt. Logan sanitorium, would handle the fluoroscoping.

Chest checks will start at 1:30 P. M., with scheduling by appointment with the health department.

Miss Darlington pointed out that most of the checks would be made at the suggestion of private physicians.

Shakespeare Festival Set For Summer

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—Antioch College and the Toledo Zoological Society will be the scenes of two Shakespeare Festivals this summer, the college announced today.

The college said its famed Antioch Area Theater's Shakespeare Festival, which has attracted 115,000 people to this city in the last four years, will double its activities this summer by presenting identical seven-play, 11-week programs in Toledo and Yellow Springs.

Samuel B. Gould, Antioch president, announced the plan along with Martin A. Janis, president, and R. C. Davis, vice president, of the Toledo Zoological Society.

The program here, as usual, will be presented outdoors against the backdrop of 103-year-old Antioch Hall. In Toledo, the plays will be given in the Zoological Gardens' ampitheater.

The season at Antioch and Toledo will run from June 27 through Sept. 9. Two companies will perform, Wednesday through Sunday evenings of each week.

The college said the Toledo company probably will open with Hamlet, while Yellow Springs opens Much Ado About Nothing. Then the companies will switch. That procedure will be followed with the succeeding plays until all seven have been presented.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. "Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: At what age does a woman become adult to her mother? I am 46, married 25 years and have two children. My problem revolves around my mother, who came to live with us two years ago, when newly widowed.

My home was the only one offered her; my two sisters claimed they had "no room." We were happy to have her—so much so that I turned over the entire reign to her. Now she has taken complete control, and we no longer have any say in our own home.

Our main complaint is that she doesn't like any of our friends—neither my woman friends, nor my children's friends nor my husband's friends. One by one they have dropped us because of mother's sharp tongue and insults. She says this one eats too much and we can't afford it (of course we can); that one is too noisy; a third is too bold, etc.

I have tried talking it over with mother, but she gets so excited, and next day she is at the doctor's with high blood pressure. We provide her with spending money and clothing, and never ask for an accounting of the "table money" which my husband (God love him) hands directly to her.

We are desperate. Can you help us? Is it fair? My husband and children are grand about all this, bu. I know it is affecting their lives, and rather than upset me more, they just keep quiet.

C. B.

DEAR C. B.: Actually the situation is absurd. And obviously it takes two to produce this kind of problem: namely, you AND your mother. It doesn't make sense from the rational view for your mother to rule out your friends, as described. But by your own admission, you gladly turned over "the entire reign" to her, right from the start—so happy were you (!) to have her a member of your household.

What did this hasty abdication of authority on your part signify? Well, your mood of joyful expectancy, in reverting to a child-role in proximity to mama, suggests that you are still pretty infantile in your unconscious feelings about her, and in a hungover anxious desire to be fully "mothered."

Understanding is half of cure, a proverb says; and perhaps this flashback into approximate causes of your stalemate will give you the spunk and perspective to outgrow it.

My idea of all-around fair play in the circumstances is: 1. Give your mother a comfortable bedliving room. 2. Entertain as you wish, and have her stay in her room if she resents your friends or can't be gracious to them as guests. 3. Stand up for justice. Don't be bullied by her blood pressure. If her wilfulness causes conflict that threatens her health, it is her cue to reform—not yours to knuckle under.

HUSBAND of Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott (above) reports in Los Angeles that she has been missing since May 31, 1955. She reportedly has an income of $2,000 a month, and has $150,000 in a bank. Her husband said he went to a drugstore for toothpaste and when he returned she was gone with the car and $15.000. The car was found a few miles away, but no trace of her has been turned up. (International)

OSU Trustees Buy Additional Land

COLUMBUS (AP) — The board of trustees of Ohio State University has approved purchase of farmland near the Don Scott Airfield for the College of Agriculture.

The new property will consist of 622 acres. Acquisition is subject to approval of the state controlling board.

The board approved the appointment of Dr Lloyd M Parks as dean of the college of pharmacy, effective July 1. Parks, from the University of Wisconsin, succeeds B V Christensen, who retired last July.

Jaycees Here To 'Speak Up'

Silver Tongues Among Old Members Sought

"Speak Up, Jaycee!"

That's the title of a new contest which members of the Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce will enter for the first time this year.

As the name implies, the contest will give Jaycees a chance to show off their public speaking talents. And if one of the entrants in the contest here is successful, he might eventually emerge as the national champion.

The contest at the local level, scheduled for Monday, will be followed up by a district competition. The winner of that one will go to the state contest and the top competitor in the state will go to the national contest.

The rules require the contestants to prepare five-minute talks on any one of the six principles of the Jaycee creed.

THE SIX principles of the creed:

(1) That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

(2) That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

(3) That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;

(4) That governments should be of laws rather than of men;

(5) That Earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and

(6) That service to humanity is the best work of life.

So far, five members of the Washington C. H. Jaycees have signed up to take part in the contest here, scheduled to be held at 7:30 P. M. Monday in the Chamber of Commerce offices here.

The next in the upward ladder of contests will be at the district meeting, to be held at the Country Club here on March 24. The winner of that one will take a $25 prize to the state contest. And the state winner will be awarded $50 toward his expenses en route to the national competition in Kansas City this summer.

Any additional entrants in the contest had better polish up their tonsils soon, Jaycee leaders recommend. All entrants are to register at the C of C office here "immediately."

Cretney Completes Special Course

Ernest J. Cretney, a sales representative of the Washington Lumber Co. here, has completed two short courses at Ohio State University: One was in small house design and the other in lumber and building material marketing.

The twin-course, which was given over 175 hours of instruction, is the 16th of a series of courses sponsored jointly by Ohio State University and the Ohio Association of Retail Lumber Dealers.

Cretney was one of 544 men and women who completed the 5-week course and received certificates and are now employed by lumber marketing firms in 12 midwestern states.

Chest Clinic Will Be Held Thursday

The Fayette County Health Department chest clinic, the every-other month opportunity for residents here to check their chest health, will be held Thursday afternoon at the health department offices.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior nurse at the health department stated that Dr. Damon Wetterauer, medical director at Mt. Logan sanitorium, would handle the fluoroscoping.

Chest checks will start at 1:30 P. M., with scheduling by appointment with the health department.

Miss Darlington pointed out that most of the checks would be made at the suggestion of private physicians.

Shakespeare Festival Set For Summer

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—Antioch College and the Toledo Zoological Society will be the scenes of two Shakespeare Festivals this summer, the college announced today.

The college said its famed Antioch Area Theater's Shakespeare Festival, which has attracted 115,000 people to this city in the last four years, will double its activities this summer by presenting identical seven-play, 11-week programs in Toledo and Yellow Springs.

Samuel B. Gould, Antioch president, announced the plan along with Martin A. Janis, president, and R. C. Davis, vice president, of the Toledo Zoological Society.

The program here, as usual, will be presented outdoors against the backdrop of 103-year-old Antioch Hall. In Toledo, the plays will be given in the Zoological Gardens' ampitheater.

The season at Antioch and Toledo will run from June 27 through Sept. 9. Two companies will perform, Wednesday through Sunday evenings of each week.

The college said the Toledo company probably will open with Hamlet, while Yellow Springs opens Much Ado About Nothing. Then the companies will switch. That procedure will be followed with the succeeding plays until all seven have been presented.

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. -- And The Clock Steadily Ticks On

Sometimes, when many of us pause for a few moments to think, we recognize that time has a peculiar effect on all of us.

There are times when we profit by our memories, other periods when we would be better off to forget.

We all must agree however that there is a relentlessness about the movement of time that affects us in various ways. As the clock ticks on what happens today soon becomes tomorrow's memories. Then memories often are gone and to a great many people even history becomes somewhat of a blank and fails to usefully influence our lives.

In the element of change it sometimes is difficult to remember how quickly the exciting present becomes the fading or forgotten past.

Recently one writer for an investment firm brought this out in his gathering of statistics to illustrate how rapidly things change even in our own country, our own state, our own community and sometimes in our own homes.

This man points out that in 10 years 14.5 million people have died and almost 17 million have been born; that 17 million marriages have taken place, enough to form 20 percent of all present families in the United States. Most provocative however, are his figures relating to historical episodes:

"Out of the 165 odd million people in the United States today over 70 percent do not remember World War I. Forty-six percent do not remember what conditions were like before World War II. And 53 percent do not have any personal recollection of what a major depression is like."

There is nothing particularly wholesome about memories of war and depression. National calamities have a way of searing the minds of those who've experienced them. But who can know the priceless value of peace if he has not encountered, in some form, the rigors of war? Who can fully appreciate an era of economic well-being if he has never seen a breadline? There were lessons bitterly learned in 1917, in the "thirties and forties." Americans today owe much to the sacrifices and hardships of those who've gone before. Yet recollections of the past are constantly being effaced by time. Already, in the span of a single decade, the years of turmoil between two deadly world wars have become but episodes in history books for half the people in the United States.

And everywhere the steady tick of the clock continues.

10 Classifications Of Bores

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—I set out to find the 10 most boring types of people in America.

You may be more sophisticated than I am, but I really was surprised by the results.

My research poll was made among men only. The odd thing about it was that no man raised the possibility that a woman, as such, could possibly be boring.

Anger him, yes! Confused him, certainly! Bore him? Never.

Some might question, if I were running an honest dog-trot poll of who are the 10 most common types of bores in America, why didn't I ask the opinion of women.

Frankly, as a fellow who feels he knows more about women than they do about themselves, I thought it would be a waste of time. I knew the answer. Obviously, to a woman, the 10 most boring people she knew would be the last 10 people who did what she wanted.

Well, now, with sex out of the way, we can get down to facts.

Every thoughtful person has his own ideas about our most common American bores, but here are the 10 that resulted from my quick survey:

1. The hobbyists. A new sports car from Germany, a fresh stamp from Abyssinia, a rosy rocket that might reach the moon, three mistakes that if Robert E. Lee hadn't made would have changed the present accent in Brooklyn, and how to make a camellia smell sweet as well as look ornamental . . . ah, experts!

2. Anybody who married for the first time, had a baby for the first time, or who just bought a new car, new house, or a new job and who feels nothing quite like this ever happened before in the history of the world.

3. One who has acquired and brags about a disease so new it isn't even listed in the $3.95 family medical book you inherited from the old folks.

4. Gourmets. The trouble with gourmets is that, when they invite you out to dinner, they always insist they knew the best thing on the menu and you must share their knowledge, too, even though it consists of pickled rabbit's foot.

5. All sports fans, and particularly New York Yankee fans. One must include here all those who praise the benefits of fresh air but rob you of them by breathing more than their share.

6. All people who don't recognize that diet is an ugly, four-letter word. One way I keep my own weight down is going to the funerals of people who took drugs to get slim enough to fit into their coffins.

7. People who have raised their own children (the results are visible) and still tell you how to rear a more accepable Adam, a better Eve.

8. The guy with the better way. He knows the place where you can get a finer suit cheaper, a restaurant that serves tastier meals than any you've been able to take your wife to, and a vantage point you never heard of where you can watch the sun rise up in technicolor and it will cost you less to see it.

9. The provocative bore. He annoys you because he claims a pipeline into anywhere. He knows whether Eisenhower sleeps in striped pajamas and the brand of hair tonic used hopefully by Khrushchev.

10. The silent or secret bore. He bores from within himself. It takes you some time to realize that the only wisdom he actually has is his own desperate realization that every time he opens his mouth he puts both feet into it.

Of course we can all recognize somebody we know in the foregoing list, including ourselves.

Middle East Center of Danger

By George Sokolsky

What is called the Middle East problem is, in fact, the question of the continued existence of the State of Israel. Here is a new state, recognized as a member of the United Nations and its existence guaranteed by all the solemn treaties and agreements which arise out of the charter of the United Nations. Now Egypt and Saudi Arabia intend to destroy, liquidate and abolish the State of Israel. In this effort, they are supported materially by Soviet Russia and the United States, the former supplying arms to Egypt, the latter to Saudi Arabia.

In due course, some kind of war is bound to break out on the boundaries of Israel. It cannot be foretold who will start that war, what little circumstance will send men to kill each other over a boundary. Naturally when a new state comes into existence, it is carved out of territory which once belonged to some other people. What we now call Israel was up to the end of World War I part of Turkey; then it became a British mandatory under the old League of Nations and now is an independent state. It never was Egyptian or Saudi Arabian territory. As a matter of fact, Egypt was a semi-colony of Great Britain and Saudi Arabia was not a country until after World War I when the Turkish empire was divided up.

So, when it comes to claims, the legality of the position is that the United Nations turned a British mandated area over to Jews who had settled in Palestine and formed there the State of Israel.

This situation is complicated by religious, racial, and social differences and by the enormous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia. The American State Department faces the dilemma that while it has guaranteed the existence of Israel, it does not propose to lose the oil of Arab countries nor the air bases which it has established in such countries. Meanwhile, the Arabs, under the leadership of Nasser of Egypt, have maneuvered themselves into the enviable position of being able to blackmail both the United States and Soviet Russia. Nasser seems to be more clever than Nehru who tried the same game and manipulated himself into a Russian slave.

The Jews, on the other hand, have waited since 70 A. D. to get back to Jerusalem. Whether one agrees with the Zionist program or not, it is impossible to ignore historic facts. In the Seder Service each Passover for this long period, the phrase was repeated year after year, "and next year in Jerusalem." In the orthodox Jewish prayer book, the return to Zion, to Jersusalem, is a constant prayer. And orthodox Jews, wherever they may be, always face toward Jerusalem when they pray as a Mohammedan faces toward Mecca. Those who hope that they can overcome this tradition of Zion by diplomacy are whistling in the wind. Every man, woman and child in Israel will have to be killed before that country is abolished. They will fight for that soil as no people ever fought before. If Israel is to be liquidated, it must be by war.

The question then arises whether a state recognized by the United Nations can be pressed out of existence by neighbors who dislike it or by great powers that find its existence inconvenient. Furthermore, the question arises whether the United Nations is correct in tolerating the blockading of a country by other member states. The answer, of course, is that the United Nations cannot function in a situation which involves the great powers; that is is virtually helpless in any situation which involves the great powers; this is virtually helpless in any situation in which Soviet Russia chooses to take a side. Therefore, it is not to be expected that the United Nations will be able to prevent war between Israel and Egypt and Saudi Arabia. And now that Glubb Pasha has been kicked out of Jordan, that little country will become bellicose.

Our own State Department has no program. It pursues what might be called a flexible policy; that is, meeting each situation as though it were an isolated problem, which no situation ever is. The reason a little fellow like Nasser can be so fresh is he gets away with it; anybody can twit the United States or Great Britain because they take the twitting. And whereas it is all done in the sacred cause of peace, there is no peace.

Glasses Designed To Avoid Eye Injury

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Maybe ordinary glasses are not enough for you. They may correct visual errors, but if you're an industrial worker, for instance, you may want safety as well as see-ability.

Active Youngster

Youngsters, too, sometimes need more than just a pair of regular glasses. An active youngster can be pretty rough on a pair of spectacles.

Ophthalmic science has come up with several solutions to these problems of safety.

Special Glass

For instance, there is a type of glass which is heated and cooled under special stress.

Although it has about twice the impact strength of a regular lens, it is not unusually thick. It's about five times as resistant to breakage when dropped on the floor. Also, it will withstand the impact of a ⅝-inch steel ball dropped from a height of 50 inches.

Won't Shatter

An even more durable lens is one which is "case hardened" by heating and chilling with an air blast under rigid temperature controls. This one won't shatter even when struck by a ⅜-inch steel ball dropped from a height of 50 inches.

A laminated lens is still another type.

This lens has the shatter-proof quality of an automobile windshield and is made in the same way. It is more expensive than the others and, while it is more likely to crack, it won't shatter.

For Certain Types

Athletes, certain industrial workers, persons with only one eye and mischievous children who are likely to get into accidents of one kind or another, probably will find this type of lens of value.

There is also a plastic lens which is light in weight and virtually unbreakable. It has a couple of drawbacks, however. It scratches more easily than a glass lens and it becomes bulky when made up in high powers. If you require a strong correction, therefore, it won't be very practical for you.

Metal particles can't become imbedded in the plastic lens, so this type of spectacle is especially good for industrial workers exposed to welding spatter or other hot metals.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

G. P.: I have been losing weight and coughing up blood. Could these be tuberculosis symptoms.

Answer: The first symptoms of tuberculosis are fatigue and loss of weight. There is a loss of appetite which is followed by coughing, expectoration, more loss of weight, fever and night sweats.

Huge U. S. Flattop Due To Go To Mediterranean Next Year

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—The United States will send its super aircraft carrier, the USS Forrestal, most powerful vessel of its fleet, to bolster American naval forces in the Mediterranean next January.

This was disclosed by ship officers today as newsmen arrived to witness the first public demonstration of the 70,000-ton carrier's jet plane operations.

At anchor at Guantanamo are no less than 27 warships. Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, took note of this in telling Navy personnel here:

"The vast changes in weapons systems which are occurring in the Navy today are indicated by the presence in Guantanamo right now of four of the Navy's newest ships—the Boston, world's first guided missile cruiser; the Forrestal, newest, largest and most modern aircraft carrier; the Northampton, newest and finest command and communications ship; and the Forrest Sherman, the first of the new class of destroyer."

IN ADDITION to the fighting ships named by Burke, who came to Guantanamo from the Joint Chiefs of Staff conference in Puerto Rico, vessels here also include the 27,000-ton carrier Antietam; 345,000-ton battleships — The New Jersey, Iowa and Wisconsin; 2 heavy cruisers, the Salem and Des Moines; 15 destroyers; and 2 submarines.

Capt. Roy L. Johnson, native of Big Bend, La., and skipper of the Forrestal, said that after this new flattop has finished her shakedown cruise she is due to go into the yard about May 5 for changes found desirable.

Postshakedown changed should be completed by November.

This will mean that the Forrestal will be able to conduct brief trials and go to join the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean by January. The big carrier's present complement is about 80 planes.

The number of U. S. telephone operators has increased by 159,000 or 79 percent from 1940 to 1950.

2. Anybody who married for the first time, had a baby for the first time, or who just bought a new car, new house, or a new job and who feels nothing quite like this ever happened before in the history of the world.

3. One who has acquired and brags about a disease so new it isn't even listed in the $3.95 family medical book you inherited from the old folks.

4. Gourmets. The trouble with gourmets is that, when they invite you out to dinner, they always insist they knew the best thing on the menu and you must share their knowledge, too, even though it consists of pickled rabbit's foot.

5. All sports fans, and particularly New York Yankee fans. One must include here all those who praise the benefits of fresh air but rob you of them by breathing more than their share.

6. All people who don't recognize that diet is an ugly, four-letter word. One way I keep my own weight down is going to the funerals of people who took drugs to get slim enough to fit into their coffins.

7. People who have raised their own children (the results are visible) and still tell you how to rear a more accepable Adam, a better Eve.

8. The guy with the better way. He knows the place where you can get a finer suit cheaper, a restaurant that serves tastier meals than any you've been able to take your wife to, and a vantage point you never heard of where you can watch the sun rise up in technicolor and it will cost you less to see it.

9. The provocative bore. He annoys you because he claims a pipeline into anywhere. He knows whether Eisenhower sleeps in striped pajamas and the brand of hair tonic used hopefully by Khrushchev.

10. The silent or secret bore. He bores from within himself. It takes you some time to realize that the only wisdom he actually has is his own desperate realization that every time he opens his mouth he puts both feet into it.

Of course we can all recognize somebody we know in the foregoing list, including ourselves.

Middle East Center of Danger

By George Sokolsky

What is called the Middle East problem is, in fact, the question of the continued existence of the State of Israel. Here is a new state, recognized as a member of the United Nations and its existence guaranteed by all the solemn treaties and agreements which arise out of the charter of the United Nations. Now Egypt and Saudi Arabia intend to destroy, liquidate and abolish the State of Israel. In this effort, they are supported materially by Soviet Russia and the United States, the former supplying arms to Egypt, the latter to Saudi Arabia.

In due course, some kind of war is bound to break out on the boundaries of Israel. It cannot be foretold who will start that war, what little circumstance will send men to kill each other over a boundary. Naturally when a new state comes into existence, it is carved out of territory which once belonged to some other people. What we now call Israel was up to the end of World War I part of Turkey; then it became a British mandatory under the old League of Nations and now is an independent state. It never was Egyptian or Saudi Arabian territory. As a matter of fact, Egypt was a semi-colony of Great Britain and Saudi Arabia was not a country until after World War I when the Turkish empire was divided up.

So, when it comes to claims, the legality of the position is that the United Nations turned a British mandated area over to Jews who had settled in Palestine and formed there the State of Israel.

This situation is complicated by religious, racial, and social differences and by the enormous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia. The American State Department faces the dilemma that while it has guaranteed the existence of Israel, it does not propose to lose the oil of Arab countries nor the air bases which it has established in such countries. Meanwhile, the Arabs, under the leadership of Nasser of Egypt, have maneuvered themselves into the enviable position of being able to blackmail both the United States and Soviet Russia. Nasser seems to be more clever than Nehru who tried the same game and manipulated himself into a Russian slave.

The Jews, on the other hand, have waited since 70 A. D. to get back to Jerusalem. Whether one agrees with the Zionist program or not, it is impossible to ignore historic facts. In the Seder Service each Passover for this long period, the phrase was repeated year after year, "and next year in Jerusalem." In the orthodox Jewish prayer book, the return to Zion, to Jersusalem, is a constant prayer. And orthodox Jews, wherever they may be, always face toward Jerusalem when they pray as a Mohammedan faces toward Mecca. Those who hope that they can overcome this tradition of Zion by diplomacy are whistling in the wind. Every man, woman and child in Israel will have to be killed before that country is abolished. They will fight for that soil as no people ever fought before. If Israel is to be liquidated, it must be by war.

The question then arises whether a state recognized by the United Nations can be pressed out of existence by neighbors who dislike it or by great powers that find its existence inconvenient. Furthermore, the question arises whether the United Nations is correct in tolerating the blockading of a country by other member states. The answer, of course, is that the United Nations cannot function in a situation which involves the great powers; that is is virtually helpless in any situation which involves the great powers; this is virtually helpless in any situation in which Soviet Russia chooses to take a side. Therefore, it is not to be expected that the United Nations will be able to prevent war between Israel and Egypt and Saudi Arabia. And now that Glubb Pasha has been kicked out of Jordan, that little country will become bellicose.

Our own State Department has no program. It pursues what might be called a flexible policy; that is, meeting each situation as though it were an isolated problem, which no situation ever is. The reason a little fellow like Nasser can be so fresh is he gets away with it; anybody can twit the United States or Great Britain because they take the twitting. And whereas it is all done in the sacred cause of peace, there is no peace.

Glasses Designed To Avoid Eye Injury

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Maybe ordinary glasses are not enough for you. They may correct visual errors, but if you're an industrial worker, for instance, you may want safety as well as see-ability.

Active Youngster

Youngsters, too, sometimes need more than just a pair of regular glasses. An active youngster can be pretty rough on a pair of spectacles.

Ophthalmic science has come up with several solutions to these problems of safety.

Special Glass

For instance, there is a type of glass which is heated and cooled under special stress.

Although it has about twice the impact strength of a regular lens, it is not unusually thick. It's about five times as resistant to breakage when dropped on the floor. Also, it will withstand the impact of a ⅝-inch steel ball dropped from a height of 50 inches.

Won't Shatter

An even more durable lens is one which is "case hardened" by heating and chilling with an air blast under rigid temperature controls. This one won't shatter even when struck by a ⅞-inch steel ball dropped from a height of 50 inches.

A laminated lens is still another type. This lens has the shatter-proof quality of an automobile windshield and is made in the same way. It is more expensive than the others and, while it is more likely to crack, it won't shatter.

For Certain Types

Athletes, certain industrial workers, persons with only one eye and mischievous children who are likely to get into accidents of one kind or another, probably will find this type of lens of value.

There is also a plastic lens which is light in weight and virtually unbreakable. It has a couple of drawbacks, however. It scratches more easily than a glass lens and it becomes bulky when made up in high powers. If you require a strong correction, therefore, it won't be very practical for you.

Metal particles can't become imbedded in the plastic lens, so this type of spectacle is especially good for industrial workers exposed to welding spatter or other hot metals.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

G. P.: I have been losing weight and coughing up blood. Could these be tuberculosis symptoms.

Answer: The first symptoms of tuberculosis are fatigue and loss of weight. There is a loss of appetite which is followed by coughing, expectoration, more loss of weight, fever and night sweats.

Huge U. S. Flattop Due To Go To Mediterranean Next Year

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—The United States will send its super aircraft carrier, the USS Forrestal, most powerful vessel of its fleet, to bolster American naval forces in the Mediterranean next January.

This was disclosed by ship officers today as newsmen arrived to witness the first public demonstration of the 70,000-ton carrier's jet plane operations.

At anchor at Guantanamo are no less than 27 warships. Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, took note of this in telling Navy personnel here:

"The vast changes in weapons systems which are occurring in the Navy today are indicated by the presence in Guantanamo right now of four of the Navy's newest ships—the Boston, world's first guided missile cruiser; the Forrestal, newest, largest and most modern aircraft carrier; the Northampton, newest and finest command and communications ship; and the Forrest Sherman, the first of the new class of destroyer."

IN ADDITION to the fighting ships named by Burke, who came to Guantanamo from the Joint Chiefs of Staff conference in Puerto Rico, vessels here also include the 27,000-ton carrier Antietam; 345,000-ton battleships — The New Jersey, Iowa and Wisconsin; 2 heavy cruisers, the Salem and Des Moines; 15 destroyers; and 2 submarines.

Capt. Roy L. Johnson, native of Big Bend, La., and skipper of the Forrestal, said that after this new flattop has finished her shakedown cruise she is due to go into the yard about May 5 for changes found desirable.

Postshakedown changed should be completed by November.

This will mean that the Forrestal will be able to conduct brief trials and go to join the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean by January. The big carrier's present complement is about 80 planes.

The number of U. S. telephone operators has increased by 159,000 or 79 percent from 1940 to 1950.

Retailers Seek Youngsters To Be Executives

Other Industries Lure Prospects With Better Wage Deals

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Retailing concerns complain it's hard today to find young men and women to train for executive jobs in the stores of tomorrow.

The need for them grows. In addition to the normal replacement of aging executives, each year there are more retail outlets to be staffed. Merchandising groups now are making an active try to entice recruits.

In the battle to snag promising college students for future executives, retailing has been losing out to other industries. Tempting starting pay in other lines — especially in engineering — attracts youths who feel their first five years or so in merchandising might be bleak by comparison.

Retailers also are now training bright newcomers for future executive jobs.

For example, the National Assn. of Food Chains, of Washington, has helped Michigan State University at East Lansing to set up a course for training in food distribution. The association says it underwrites the teaching and other expenses of the course. The first class of 13 enrolled in 1950. It has grown quickly, and 200 are expected next September.

A choice of three courses is offered. One leads to a bachelor's degree; another is for graduate students; and a third is a one-year course which experienced food store executives can take to brush up on new ideas in their trade.

John A. Logan, president of the association, points up the need for executives in the food chain field. He says 1,800 new supermarkets opened last year and 2,500 more are on the drawing boards. Food chains have 22,000 supermarkets and food stores around the land to be staffed.

How long does it take for a recruit to advance? Many of the food chains, Logan says, have training programs of one to three years. Newcomers are moved from department to department to be readied for a trained reserve for the management of supermarkets yet to come.

Injunction Sought In Rail Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal injunction will be sought by the New York Central Railroad today to halt a work stoppage by freight handlers that has caused a pile-up of freight at terminals in Cleveland and five other cities.

C. D. Buford, assistant general manager of the railroad, said yesterday the injunction would be sought in U. S. District Court here. He said the walkout was in violation of a contract with the Railway and Shipping Clerks Union.

Union President George M. Harrison said the walkout resulted from the railroad's efforts to make Sunday a regular work day.

(City School Superintendent)

Following their visit to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dill to watch the milking process, the students of Mrs. Trace's Third Grade in the Methodist Church visited a dairy to see how milk is processed there.

About a week after the visit to the farm, a trip by school bus was made to the Med-O-Pure Dairy.

Mr. Ladrach led the children through the dairy, explaining the various processes. The children seemed most fascinated with the way the milk cartons were opened, waxed, the milk put in, and then sealed shut, all by machine.

Harry Jones asked, "Where are the Hopalong Cassidy gun-panels?" So Mr. Ladrach showed where those are kept. Many were wishing they could take a hundred or so home!

When the children were taken to the room in which the cottage cheese is processed, they didn't like the smell.

They were much intrigued by the floor of the dairy's being constantly washed. The fact that the milk was never touched by hands from the cow to the carton made them realize in what a sanitary age we live.

The class was most surprised to be taken into the refrigeration room in which the ice cream is stored at a temperature of 18 degrees below zero. Karen Smith was a bit reluctant to go in. She said, "I'll go in if Mrs. Trace will go with me!" Several others hung close to the teacher, too, as she went into the room.

The high spot of the trip, undoubtedly, was the ice-cream processing room. And joy knew no bounds when each child received a cup of ice cream. Many carried the empty cups back to school with them.

Since the two trips, the class has written stories of each one. In addition, each child has written a "thank-you" letter. Grace Merritt told Mr. and Mrs. Dill that she hoped she might come back again. One child invited them to return the visit to the classroom.

One boy—perhaps best unnamed—told the Dills that he thought their daughters were pretty. He added that the other boys thought so too.

In general, the class has received a good picture of what effort is required to place milk on their doorsteps each morning. The trips also have widened their interest in their own community. It has been a rewarding experience for all concerned.

California Still Appears To Be Backing Eisenhower

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of stories by the AP's national political reporters who are surveying the situation across the country in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to seek a second term.)

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A hard thing to come by in California today is any widespread prediction that the Democrats will take the big state away from President Eisenhower in 1956.

Some people tell you they won't vote for Eisenhower again because of his heart attack. Others don't like Vice President Nixon, a Californian. But enough are saying they'll stick with Eisenhower to make the Democrats think twice about their chances.

Nixon or no Nixon on the ticket, Republicans are talking of a landslide victory. The state is booming, jobs are plentiful, business is good. Eisenhower's personal popularity remains high.

Farm folk contend they aren't as well off as they were four years ago but their vote is relatively small in a state with 13½ million population. Eisenhower lost the central valley farm belt to Adlai Stevenson in 1952 — yet carried California by 800,000 votes.

Republicans say they are extra happy over the 1956 outlook. The President's decision to go for a second term called off a possible three - way fight to control the state's 70 delegates to the GOP national convention.

Instead, the three potential rivals—Nixon, Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight — are united behind the single delegation pledged to Eisenhower in the June 5 presidential primary.

The maneuvering among the state's Republican big three stole most of the interest in the political scene here despite Stevenson's forthcoming contest with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the 68 Democratic delegates. That campaign won't really get rolling for another few weeks.

Oddly enough, Nixon is not a big issue in California — not yet, anyway. There are voters, of course, who wonder whether he'd be right for the job in case anything happened to Eisenhower. But the controversy over the 43-year-old vice president has originated on the outside.

The California Republican Assembly, a state organization of party clubs, showed no hesitancy in endorsing Nixon for re-election. Party leaders, including Knight, take the position that if Eisenhower taps Nixon again for his running mate, the California delegation certainly will go along.

Murray Chotiner, Nixon's 1952 campaign manager, says:

"On the basis of President Eisenhower's opinion of Mr Nixon and the support he has received from party organization people, it is safe to predict that in all probability he will be renominated."

But Mrs. Clara Shirpser, Democratic national committeewoman, is convinced that Nixon will be an issue in the November campaign if he is renominated. California Democrats she says, are "completely and irrevocably opposed to Nixon and all he stands for."

At the moment, Democrats are pretty busy getting ready for the Stevenson-Kefauver showdown in the June 5 primary.

It's bound to be a hot affair, and the outcome could be close.

The Democratic state chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder of Los Angeles, predicts Stevenson will come out on top in California. Tom C. Carrell of San Fernando, Kefauver's state chairman, replied "We're sure we are going to carry California."

Both candidates showed well here in 1952. Kefauver won the primary by better than 2-1, rolling up 1,115,000 votes against a slate formed before President Truman decided not to run again. Stevenson polled in excess of two-million that November while losing to Eisenhower.

Stevenson appears to have the edge over Kefauver now, coming in as his party's 1952 nominee and with the support of all top Democratic officials in the state except for Mrs. Shirpser.

Political writers are not discounting the possibility of a Kefauver victory. The Tennessee senator is backed by a hardworking state organization, and he has proved himself to be a personable campaigner.

Irked Farmer Fires Shotgun Blast At Judge

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—A shotgun blast fired at close range, narrowly missed Federal Judge Frank A. Picard as he presided at a trial here yesterday.

FBI agents immediately seized Stanley Wloch a 68-year-old farmer.

The agents said Wloch poked a shutgun through the courtroom entrance and fired at the judge as he sat on the bench.

The pellets missed the judge's head by inches and imbedded themselves in the stone wall back of the bench.

Judge Picard first appeared to think a blank charge had been fired at him. He went ahead with the trial before declaring a recess 10 minutes later.

The judge said he had been warned about a week ago to be on guard against such an incident.

"If I went into hibernation every time I get a warning I would never get out into the open," the judge said.

FBI agents, who have an office on the third floor of the federal building above the second floor courtroom, rushed to the scene upon hearing the gun discharge.

The agents described Wloch as a man with a grudge against the judge.

The agents said Wloch filed a civil suit in Judge Piard's court in 1947 and the judge dismissed it for lack of jurisdiction. They said Wloch later sent threatening letters to the judge. The suit, agents said, involved Wloch's attempt to recover a farm from his divorced wife and Wloch appealed to federal court after losing out in the state court.

When the children were taken to the room in which the cottage cheese is processed, they didn't like the smell.

They were much intrigued by the floor of the dairy's being constantly washed. The fact that the milk was never touched by hands from the cow to the carton made them realize in what a sanitary age we live.

The class was most surprised to be taken into the refrigeration room in which the ice cream is stored at a temperature of 18 degrees below zero. Karen Smith was a bit reluctant to go in. She said, "I'll go in if Mrs. Trace will go with me!" Several others hung close to the teacher, too, as she went into the room.

The high spot of the trip, undoubtedly, was the ice-cream processing room. And joy knew no bounds when each child received a cup of ice cream. Many carried the empty cups back to school with them.

Since the two trips, the class has written stories of each one. In addition, each child has written a "thank-you" letter. Grace Merritt told Mr. and Mrs. Dill that she hoped she might come back again. One child invited them to return the visit to the classroom.

One boy—perhaps best unnamed—told the Dills that he thought their daughters were pretty. He added that the other boys thought so too.

In general, the class has received a good picture of what effort is required to place milk on their doorsteps each morning. The trips also have widened their interest in their own community. It has been a rewarding experience for all concerned.

California Still Appears To Be Backing Eisenhower

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of stories by the AP's national political reporters who are surveying the situation across the country in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to seek a second term.)

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A hard thing to come by in California today is any widespread prediction that the Democrats will take the big state away from President Eisenhower in 1956.

Some people tell you they won't vote for Eisenhower again because of his heart attack. Others don't like Vice President Nixon, a Californian. But enough are saying they'll stick with Eisenhower to make the Democrats think twice about their chances.

Nixon or no Nixon on the ticket, Republicans are talking of a landslide victory. The state is booming, jobs are plentiful, business is good. Eisenhower's personal popularity remains high.

Farm folk contend they aren't as well off as they were four years ago but their vote is relatively small in a state with 13½ million population. Eisenhower lost the central valley farm belt to Adlai Stevenson in 1952 — yet carried California by 800,000 votes.

Republicans say they are extra happy over the 1956 outlook. The President's decision to go for a second term called off a possible three - way fight to control the state's 70 delegates to the GOP national convention.

Instead, the three potential rivals—Nixon, Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight — are united behind the single delegation pledged to Eisenhower in the June 5 presidential primary.

The maneuvering among the state's Republican big three stole most of the interest in the political scene here despite Stevenson's forthcoming contest with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the 68 Democratic delegates. That campaign won't really get rolling for another few weeks.

Oddly enough, Nixon is not a big issue in California — not yet, anyway. There are voters, of course, who wonder whether he'd be right for the job in case anything happened to Eisenhower. But the controversy over the 43-year-old vice president has originated on the outside.

The California Republican Assembly, a state organization of party clubs, showed no hesitancy in endorsing Nixon for re-election. Party leaders, including Knight, take the position that if Eisenhower taps Nixon again for his running mate, the California delegation certainly will go along.

Murray Chotiner, Nixon's 1952 campaign manager, says:

"On the basis of President Eisenhower's opinion of Mr. Nixon and the support he has received from party organization people, it is safe to predict that in all probability he will be renominated."

But Mrs. Clara Shirpser, Democratic national committeewoman, is convinced that Nixon will be an issue in the November campaign if he is renominated. California Democrats she says, are "completely and irrevocably opposed to Nixon and all he stands for."

At the moment, Democrats are pretty busy getting ready for the Stevenson-Kefauver showdown in the June 5 primary.

It's bound to be a hot affair, and the outcome could be close.

The Democratic state chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder of Los Angeles, predicts Stevenson will come out on top in California. Tom C. Carrell of San Fernando, Kefauver's state chairman, replied "We're sure we are going to carry California."

Both candidates showed well here in 1952. Kefauver won the primary by better than 2-1, rolling up 1,115,000 votes against a slate formed before President Truman decided not to run again. Stevenson polled in excess of two-million that November while losing to Eisenhower.

Stevenson appears to have the edge over Kefauver now, coming in as his party's 1952 nominee and with the support of all top Democratic officials in the state except for Mrs. Shirpser.

Political writers are not discounting the possibility of a Kefauver victory. The Tennessee senator is backed by a hardworking state organization, and he has proved himself to be a personable campaigner.

Irked Farmer Fires Shotgun Blast At Judge

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—A shotgun blast fired at close range, narrowly missed Federal Judge Frank A. Picard as he presided at a trial here yesterday.

FBI agents immediately seized Stanley Wloch a 68-year-old farmer.

The agents said Wloch poked a shutgun through the courtroom entrance and fired at the judge as he sat on the bench.

The pellets missed the judge's head by inches and imbedded themselves in the stone wall back of the bench.

Judge Picard first appeared to think a blank charge had been fired at him. He went ahead with the trial before declaring a recess 10 minutes later.

The judge said he had been warned about a week ago to be on guard against such an incident.

"If I went into hibernation every time I get a warning I would never get out into the open," the judge said.

FBI agents, who have an office on the third floor of the federal building above the second floor courtroom, rushed to the scene upon hearing the gun discharge.

The agents described Wloch as a man with a grudge against the judge.

The agents said Wloch filed a civil suit in Judge Piard's court in 1947 and the judge dismissed it for lack of jurisdiction. They said Wloch later sent threatening letters to the judge. The suit, agents said, involved Wloch's attempt to recover a farm from his divorced wife and Wloch appealed to federal court after losing out in the state court.

Concord-Green Fire Department Completes Special Training Course

VOLUNTEER FIRE FIGHTERS of the Concord-Green Township unit listen (above) as Harry Hague III, Wilmington Fire Chief, read a certificate of recognition for completing a basic course in fire fighting. Eighteen members of the Concord-Green Township Volunteer Fire Department received recognition Monday night for completing a ten-week basic course in fire fighting.

The course, under the combined sponsorship of the State Department of Education" division of Trades and Industries and the Miami Trace Local School District, was conducted by Harry Hague III, Wilmington fire chief.

Kenneth Bush, chief of the volunteer fire-fighting unit, pointed out that cost of the instruction was covered jointly by the state and the two townships.

With the completion of the course, all 27 volunteers have now received basic training, Bush said. The course had been given previously. Some of the men took the course a second time, as a refresher.

Started in January of 1951, the volunteer unit has been increasing its equipment and knowledge of firefighting methods.

It started, Bush said, with one piece of equipment, no garage and about 20 volunteers.

Since then another tank truck was added last fall, a jeep was purchased. The jeep is being fitted out with a 100-gallon tank now and will be used to move in quickly to spots the heavier equipment can't reach.

Besides the regular equipment, the Concord-Green Township unit is the second rural fire department in this area to be equipped with two-way radio communication. The recently installed radio is tied in with the Fayette County Sheriff's system.

That puts the unit in quick contact with all of the mutual-aid towns—Sabina, Leesburg, Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg and New Holland. If current legislation is approved, Washington C. H. will also join in the mutual aid plan.

The men taking the training course were Clyde Bower, Warren Brannon, Will Braun, Edwin Buck, Kenneth Bush, Eugene Cockerill, Herman Dowler, Charles Ellis, Dennis Hawk, Robert Kimmey, Macky McDonald, Barton Montgomery, Donald Palmer, Roddy Rummans, John Short, Paul Stuckey, Marvin Waddle, J. O. Wilson and Eugene Yahn.

Othe volunteers who have already taken the course are Marion and James Waddle, Robert Stuckey, Frank Sollars, Gene Mark, Harlan Johnson, Robert Pavey and Eugene Eyre.

Gene Cockerill is assistant chief.

Ohio Destined For Honors If These Inventions Click

CLEVELAND (AP) — A spaghetti platter with sumps for clumsy eaters. A piano keyboard which makes grinning easier for TV performers. A machine to attack bald scalps by virtually plowing them up and giving them a charge of electricity.

For better or for worse, these inventions have been patented recently by Cleveland inventors.

Two of the inventions the platter and the keyboard, were dreamed up by Emil H. Orenick.

Orenick believes that even the ablest of spaghetti consumers would benefit from a platter which has tablespoon-size sumps or depressions at each end.

The eater would push his spaghetti into a sump and twirl it on his fork there, instead of using a spoon for a holder. That would leave one hand free to hold bread, make gestures or reach for the chianti.

One sump would be for right-handers, the other for southpaws. Or in the case of a one-sump platter the eater could simply turn it around.

Orenick's keyboard would be on the top of a grand piano, rather than its midsection. Thus a pianist would have his face and hands in full camera view simultaneously. No more squirming on the bench to angle a grin through the candles and show finger technique at the same time, says the inventor.

The baldness treatment was devised by Elmer Piar who declares aging scalps harden like gourds and give their owners the problem like trying to grow hair through concrete.

Piar's machine has an electrode on one side and a dozen scapel sharp blades on the other. But the blades project only a thousandth of an inch and cause no blood or pain, he says.

While the blades are scratching up the scalp, electricity decomposes the natural salts into which they are cutting and dispose of the perspiration, "always present when the scalp is being treated," Piar explains.

Furthermore, he added, the process produces hydrogen peroxide, an excellent antiseptic, and eliminates the risk of infection.

improved upon. They capitalized upon the tested wartime comradeships of the men who had won the first global war, to give that impulse for continued mutual association a glowing peacetime purpose.

Certainly no segment of our people could be more fervent in their desire for a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations than those men who had felt the hardships and pain of actual warfare.

Founded upon lofty principles, the people of our nation soon recognized its significance as a power for good, but unfortunately its suggestions and admonitions often fell upon deaf ears in the halls of Congress.

Thousands of American cities and towns have been enriched through American Legion community service. More than $90,00000 has been expended in providing for the emergency needs of the children of America. Too, they have sponsored many legislative acts in Congress, including the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Since its inception, the American Legion has advocated economy, efficiency and integrity in the operation of American government. It will not cease in its efforts to achieve that end.

It is written in the Holy Scriptures: "Let not your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid" and "to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

With profound faith in Divine Guidance, the American Legion will continue to march on. . ."for God and country."

The truth is that good golden Hudepohl starts out much the same as other fine beers. With quality ingredients . . . brewed with patience and skill. But then we do something different . . . What we do is a closely guarded secret. It's a special, costlier step in brewing . . . a finishing process. And what it does is make Hudepohl even brighter and more golden. Frisco Keeps Top Rating In Final Poll

CHICAGO (AP)—For the second straight year, the University of San Francisco will go into the NCAA Basketball Tournament as the nation's No. 1 team on the basis of regular season play.

San Francisco's Dons, the winningest team in major college history, today received the No. 1 designation from 132 sports writers participating in the season's final Associated Press poll.

Marsili testified that at one point the 25-year-old Janowicz, former Ohio State All-America now playing pro football, was "hit once or twice in the face" while trying to come between two policemen and Blake. He also testified that he saw one policeman hit Blake "in the stomach" while Blake was backed against a police cruiser in the restaurant parking lot.

Greenberg Seeks To Shorten Games

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — General Manager Hank Greenberg thinks the Cleveland Indians are taking too much time to play a baseball game and he is doing something about it.

He promised that the club would pay $100 into a players' fund for each game the Indians win in two hours or less during the regular season. The promise will hold good on road games as well.

The players' fund will be administered by Manager Al Lopez. It will be used for any purpose that the players choose.

State Mental Hygiene Staff Soon To Top 10,000 Total

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The number of employes in the state division of mental hygiene is expected to exceed 10,000 within the next six months, it was reported today.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the state department of mental hygiene and correction placed the number of employes now in the division at 9,718. He said this represented a seven per cent increase over the 9,082 employes in the division a year ago. state's institutions for the mentally ill and the mentally retarded It is responsible for approximately 36,000 patients.

Dr. Porterfield said at the seven per cent rate of increase, the number of employes in the division would exceed 10,000 within another six months.

"Most encouraging has been the fact that all the treatment disciplines involved — physicians, nurses, attendants, psychologists, social workers, therapists — have shared in the increase," the director said.

He said a year ago the division had 160 full-time physicians and 70 working part-time. "Our latest report shows 169 full - time physicians and 83 part-time."

The most spectacular gains have been in the attendant, social worker and therapist categories, Porterfield declared.

"Where a year ago we had 4,844 attendants, there are now 5,346. Where a year ago we had 96 social workers, there are now 140. Where a year ago we had 194 therapists, there are now 245."

He said the number of psychologists has risen from 89 to 104.

In the two categories where the greatest shortage exists nationally—physicians and nurses — the patient-personnel ratio has been reduced in Ohio's mental institutions during the past year from 184.6 to 170.5 for doctors and from 116.1 to 107.8 for nurses, Porterfield added.

About 26 million families in the United States take a half billion photographs every year, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

Greenberg Seeks To Shorten Games

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — General Manager Hank Greenberg thinks the Cleveland Indians are taking too much time to play a baseball game and he is doing something about it.

He promised that the club would pay $100 into a players' fund for each game the Indians win in two hours or less during the regular season. The promise will hold good on road games as well.

The players' fund will be administered by Manager Al Lopez. It will be used for any purpose that the players choose.

Gunshot Wound Fatal To Youth

MIDDLETOWN (AP) — A gunshot wound in the head, suffered last Saturday, caused the death in Middletown Hospital yesterday of Carl Younker, 16, son of a Warren County tenant farmer.

Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said Younker was standing near two friends who were wrestling over a .22 caliber rifle when the weapon discharged, striking the boy. The shooting occurred on a farm near the Younker home.

State Mental Hygiene Staff Soon To Top 10,000 Total

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The number of employes in the state division of mental hygiene is expected to exceed 10,000 within the next six months, it was reported today.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the state department of mental hygiene and correction placed the number of employes now in the division at 9,718. He said this represented a seven per cent increase over the 9,082 employes in the division a year ago. state's institutions for the mentally ill and the mentally retarded It is responsible for approximately 36,000 patients.

Dr. Porterfield said at the seven per cent rate of increase, the number of employes in the division would exceed 10,000 within another six months.

"Most encouraging has been the fact that all the treatment disciplines involved — physicians, nurses, attendants, psychologists, social workers, therapists — have shared in the increase," the director said.

He said a year ago the division had 160 full-time physicians and 70 working part-time. "Our latest report shows 169 full - time physicians and 83 part-time."

The most spectacular gains have been in the attendant, social worker and therapist categories, Porterfield declared.

"Where a year ago we had 4,844 attendants, there are now 5,346. Where a year ago we had 96 social workers, there are now 140. Where a year ago we had 194 therapists, there are now 245."

He said the number of psychologists has risen from 89 to 104.

In the two categories where the greatest shortage exists nationally—physicians and nurses — the patient-personnel ratio has been reduced in Ohio's mental institutions during the past year from 184.6 to 170.5 for doctors and from 116.1 to 107.8 for nurses, Porterfield added.

About 26 million families in the United States take a half billion photographs every year, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

Wonderful things are developing in West Central Ohio

For a complete picture... get a D P & L Annual Report

West Central Ohio comes sharply into focus when seen through the "lens" of The Dayton Power and Light Company's 1955 annual report. It's a picture of a million people who enjoy good incomes—who work in healthily diversified industries in cities and towns—and who live on 16,000 farms. These fortunate people live well. And naturally, their individual use of our services is above the national average.

This report gives you a picture of The Dayton Power and Light Company's sound growth, matching that of the area. As the number of our customers approached one million — the company passed the $200,000,000 mark in property and plant. Expansion has occurred in every aspect of our operations, reflected in revenues, earnings, wages, and dividends.

Our annual report has been greatly condensed into the table at right. May we send you a copy of the full report? Just write—

Hijinks Color Opening Play In NCAA Meet

North Carolina State, DePaul Upset As Cage Tournament Gets Start

(By The Associated Press)

The NCAA eliminations got under way in the national championbasketball tournament Monday night with the "wong man" sinking a winning basket, a near-record team point total, two upsets and a minor riot.

Temple gave Holy Cross the boot 74-72 and Canisius upset North Carolina State, ranked No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll today, 79-78 in a record four overtimes at Madison Square Garden. Morehead (Ky.) State rolled up a 107-92 victory over Marshall, and Wayne (Mich.) upset DePaul 72-63 in a pair at Fort Wayne, Ind. Seattle hung on to beat Idaho State 68-66 at Seattle.

The first-found firing in the NCAA tourney that winds up March 23 at Evanston, Ill., continues tonight with Connecticut-Manhattan and West Virginia-Dartmouth at Madison Square Garden and Southern Methodist-Texas Tech and Oklahoma City-Memphis State at Wichita, Kan.

Temple's success against Holy Cross came on a jump shot by 6-6 Fred Cohen with eight seconds remaining. But it wasn't planned that way. Hal Lear, who paired with sophomore Guy Rodgers as a front line in a 2-1-2 zone, was to have taken the last shot. It was the 5-11 Lear who matched All-America Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross with 26 points.

"We had set up the play for Lear," said Owl Coach Harry Litwack, "but Heinsohn, apparently coming out to help a teammate in the rush for the ball, left Cohen uncovered so Fred got the ball and let it go."

Holy Cross, the 1947 NCAA champ, tried desperately to recover, passing the ball into the 6-7 Heinsohn after a time out with 3½ seconds remaining. Heinsohn's jump shot bounced off the board back into his hands and he shot again. That one hit—but the officials ruled it was after the final buzzer.

That decision set off a flood of irate Holy Cross fans, but Referee John Stevens and Umpire Vic Di Gravio managed to escape.

Holy Cross Coach Ray Leenig insisted to no avail that Heinsohn was fouled on the last shot, claiming two foul shots should have been awarded.

It was a jumping one-hander by sub Frank Corcoran—his only basket of the game—that belted N.C. State in the last five seconds of the fourth overtime, which was a tourney mark. The winning play was set up when John Maglio, who with Phil DiNardo had given State a 78-77 lead with two field goals in the last minute, missed a free throw with 14 seconds left and Canisius grabbed the rebound.

Ron Shavlik, handicapped by his broken wrist and four fouls, was high with 25 points for State. Hank Nowak potted 29 for Canisius.

Temple now meets tonight's Connecticut - Manhattan winner and Canisius plays the survivor of the West Virginia-Dartmouth nightcap at the Garden in Friday's second round at Philadelphia.

Morehead, which had a record major college average of 96 points a game, fell just one short of the NCAA team mark in clobbering Marshall's Mid-Atlantic Conference champions for a third time this season. Utah holds the record with its 108-85 decision over Seattle last year.

Dan Swartz, a 6-4 center, scored 39 points for Morehead.

DePaul, with a slim bench, was outmanned by Wayne, which got 27 points from 5-11 sophomore Clarence Straughn.

Wayne now meets Kentucky and Morehead plays Iowa in a second round double-header at Iowa City, Iowa, Friday.

Seattle, which meets Utah at Corvallis, Ore., Friday, rode home as sub guard Claire Markey hit six of the Chieftains' last eight points. Dick Stricklin scored the clincher with two minutes left.

Former WHS Coach Becomes Wittenberg College Professor

Howard E. (Red) Maurer, former Washington C. H. High School coach and since 1949 head coach of basketball and baseball at Wittenberg College in Springfield, announced Tuesday that he would drop most of his coaching duties at the college to concentrate on teaching.

Howard E. (Red) Maurer

Maurer is one of the few men in the physical education field holding a doctor of philosophy degree. He earned the degree at Ohio State University while coaching at Wittenberg.

He was head football, basketball and baseball coach at Washington C. H. High School from 1930 to 1936 and then moved to Barberton High School for 10 years before going to Wittenberg in 1946.

For his first three years at Wittenberg, Maurer was head coach of football and basketball. In 1949, he switched from football to baseball coaching duties.

William M. Edwards, Wittenberg's director of athletics, said Maurer is to be recommended for permanent tenure on the faculty with an advance in rank to associate professor. He is now an assistant professor.

WHILE HE will drop basketball, which has taken most of his time for four months each year, Maurer will continue as baseball coach. Wittenberg is the defending baseball champion in the Ohio Conference this spring.

Wittenberg has go one in mind for the top basketball job, Edwards said. A new man will be named to the staff before fall to coach basketball, assist in football and help in spring sports.

Maurer was a star in football, basketball and baseball at Wittenberg from 1927 to 1930 and also a high ranking scholarship student.

Dr. Maurer has taken a leading role in his field as a member of the legislative council of the Ohio Association of Health and Physical Education and panelist at meetings of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

He is co-author of "Physical Education as a Career," written for the Ohio Association of Health and Physical Education and used widely in high schools and colleges.

Southpaw Redlegs Mystify Cardinals

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Soft touches for lefthanded pitchers last season, the St. Louis Cardinals showed the same timidity yesterday when the Cincinnati Redlegs tossed two lefties at them.

The Cards made only four hits and scored their only run off a righthander, Tom Acker. Lefthander Charley Rabe started for the Redlegs and stopped St. Louis without a hit. Rookie southpaw Pat Scantlebury allowed one hit in two innings. The Redlegs won, 2-1.

Little Jackie Collum pitched three innings against his former teammates and was the loser.

Nashua Favored At Gulfstream

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The $100,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap to be decided at a mile and a quarter Saturday afternoon shaped up today as a speed contest featuring seven swift thoroughbreds.

Nashua, Leslie Combs II's star, drew top weight of 129 pounds and became a 4 to 5 favorite to win the race and push his total earnings to approximately $1,123,015.

That would give him the money-winning title now held by Calumet Farm's Citation at $1,085,760.

It will be two rounds more than Nashua carried in the Widener handicap last month, which he won by a neck.

Alfred McGuire, Dartmouth College freshman basketball coach, played three years of basketball with the New York Knickerbockers before going to Hanover, N. H.

Basilio Hopes Saxton Will Try Slugging

CHICAGO (AP)—"If Saxton wants the title let him come out and make a fight of it," says welterweight champion Carmen Basilio.

That was the battle-scarred ex-Marine's way of telling challenger Johnny Saxton that he has no intention of chasing a running target in their 15-round championship contest here tomorrow night.

"I like a man who comes in and is willing to exchange," said the 28-year-old 147-pound boss from Chittenango, N. Y. "It takes two to make a fight and any fighter owes it to his public to give them a run for their money. Especially Saxton after a couple of bad ones he's been in.

"I just don't like those guys who make me do all the work," he snapped after winding up his training Monday for his second title defense.

Saxton doesn't figure to pay the slightest attention to Basilio's words. He knows that the superbly conditioned champ likes nothing better than to mix it with an opponent.

"I know that I can outbox him," said Saxton, a 25-year-old New Yorker. "But I'm not sure that I can outslug him. So why should I try to trade punches with him? I'll box him all the way."

Saxton is a 2-1 underdog Basilio has an unbeaten string of 15 going.

The fight will be telecast nationally at 10 p. m.

Bobby Thompson Pleases Milwaukee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bobby Thomson's running on his second-inning triple yesterday pleased Milwaukee Graves manager Charlie Grimm.

"He looked great," Grimm said after the game, won by the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2.

Grimm said, "by the time the ball hit the wall, Bobby was already on second. I look for him to have a great year."

Thomson, who broke his ankle in the 1954 spring training, has been a big question mark in the Braves' title hopes.

Here, aluminum billets are being "homogenized" in a natural gas-fired furnace before rolling and drawing operations which produce screen wire. Kaiser Aluminum's plant at Newark, Ohio, is supplied gas by National Gas and Oil Corporation, a customer of Texas Eastern.

Natural gas transported from the Southwest via Texas Eastern pipelines is an important manufacturing tool for Kaiser Aluminum Company. Many critical heat-treating operations are necessary to produce screen wire 12/1000 of an inch in diameter from 200-lb. aluminum ingots. At Kaiser, furnace temperatures from 800°F. to 1500°F. are rigidly controlled and economically sustained — thanks to natural gas. Nashua Favored At Gulfstream

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The $100,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap to be decided at a mile and a quarter Saturday afternoon shaped up today as a speed contest featuring seven swift thoroughbreds.

Nashua, Leslie Combs II's star, drew top weight of 129 pounds and became a 4 to 5 favorite to win the race and push his total earnings to approximately $1,123,015.

That would give him the money-winning title now held by Calumet Farm's Citation at $1,085,760.

It will be two rounds more than Nashua carried in the Widener handicap last month, which he won by a neck.

Alfred McGuire, Dartmouth College freshman basketball coach, played three years of basketball with the New York Knickerbockers before going to Hanover, N. H.

Basilio Hopes Saxton Will Try Slugging

CHICAGO (AP)—"If Saxton wants the title let him come out and make a fight of it," says welterweight champion Carmen Basilio.

That was the battle-scarred ex-Marine's way of telling challenger Johnny Saxton that he has no intention of chasing a running target in their 15-round championship contest here tomorrow night.

"I like a man who comes in and is willing to exchange," said the 28-year-old 147-pound boss from Chittenango, N. Y. "It takes two to make a fight and any fighter owes it to his public to give them a run for their money. Especially Saxton after a couple of bad ones he's been in.

"I just don't like those guys who make me do all the work," he snapped after winding up his training Monday for his second title defense.

Saxton doesn't figure to pay the slightest attention to Basilio's words. He knows that the superbly conditioned champ likes nothing better than to mix it with an opponent.

"I know that I can outbox him," said Saxton, a 25-year-old New Yorker. "But I'm not sure that I can outslug him. So why should I try to trade punches with him? I'll box him all the way."

Saxton is a 2-1 underdog Basilio has an unbeaten string of 15 going.

The fight will be telecast nationally at 10 p. m.

Bobby Thompson Pleases Milwaukee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bobby Thomson's running on his second-inning triple yesterday pleased Milwaukee Graves manager Charlie Grimm.

"He looked great," Grimm said after the game, won by the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2.

Grimm said, "by the time the ball hit the wall, Bobby was already on second. I look for him to have a great year."

Thomson, who broke his ankle in the 1954 spring training, has been a big question mark in the Braves' title hopes.

Pests out!—thanks to Texas Eastern

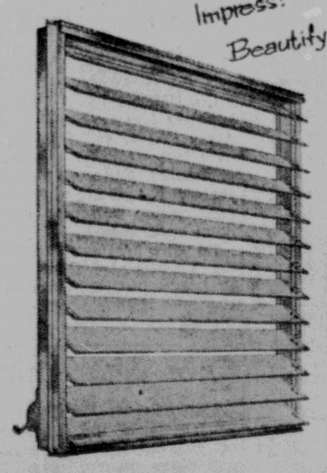

TEXAS EASTERN SERVES THE COMPANIES THAT SERVE YOU

There's more than a mile of aluminum wire in a standard 3 foot by 5 foot window screen! Here, aluminum billets are being "homogenized" in a natural gas-fired furnace before rolling and drawing operations which produce screen wire. Kaiser Aluminum's plant at Newark, Ohio, is supplied gas by National Gas and Oil Corporation, a customer of Texas Eastern.

Natural gas transported from the Southwest via Texas Eastern pipelines is an important manufacturing tool for Kaiser Aluminum Company. Many critical heat-treating operations are necessary to produce screen wire 12/1000 of an inch in diameter from 200-lb. aluminum ingots. At Kaiser, furnace temperatures from 800°F. to 1500°F. are rigidly controlled and economically sustained — thanks to natural gas. Because of this clean and economical fuel homeowners can now enjoy the benefits of rust-proof aluminum screens.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Merchants don't have anything personal against 61-year-old Delfin Naranjo, but they aren't often glad to see him. He deals in worthless checks — worthless checks they accepted.

He represents an Albuquerque bank and he rides a bike returning bad checks which merchants accepted and deposited. It's a special service for those who want the checks back immediately — instead of waiting until the end of the month.

C of C Meeting Plans Outlined

Area Development Plans To Be Unveiled

After recovering from the surprise of receiving—and accepting—the resignation of Glen Allen, the secretary - manager, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce spent much of the remainder of their regular monthly meeting Monday night making plans for the annual meeting May 29 at the Country Club.

Highlights of the meeting will be the election of directors and the "unveiling" of a master plan for long range development of the Washington C. H. area.

The master plan, now being drawn up by students in Miami University's graduate School of City Design under the guidance of Prof. Rudolph Frankel, is expected to be completed in time for the meeting.

If everything goes according to plan, Prof. Frankel and half a dozen men who have been working on the plan for the past six months, will bring to the meeting about 30 maps and 15 charts that will show the city and surrounding area as it now is and as it would be under the master plan of development.

In planning to show these maps and charts, the board agreed that the best way would be to place them in groups of 10 to 15 on three walls of the Country Club dining room.

Two or three of the men who have been working on the plan are to be with each group of maps and charts to explain them and answer questions.

The final station of the tour around the room will sum up the plan to show the destination—"Our Future. . .1980."

THE BOARD also set up the framework for another Business-Industry-Education Day (BIE Day) to be held April 25.

Walter Rettig was named chairman of the committee to carry out the arrangements. Broadly, the BIE Day this year will follow the same pattern as the BIE Days for the past five years, the board agreed.

With the city and county school authorities cooperating, the seniors would be dismissed from classrooms that day to go through businesses and industries in which they express an interest.

Before they start through the businesses and industries, the students are to attend an orientation meeting, probably in the high school auditorium here, where an explanation of BIE Day will be given them.

After that they are to go to the businesses and industries as guests of the management for the rest of the day. Basically, BIE Day was designed to show young people what makes business and industry (including farming) tick and to point up the importance of the American way of life.

Hospital Problems

ed out, might be retarded if the hospital fails to meet the challenge for greater service it faces now.

A LIST OF proposals urged, suggested and studied by the trustees during recent weeks was given to all committee members present.

Comment was made during the discussion that the hospital has been operating since its start without an operating levy, which most county and municipal hospitals find necessary.

The reason for this, it was declared, was the "exceptionally good record and reputation" of the hospital here in service management and staff.

It was reported that a young eye specialist and an urologist are now seeking information as to whether the hospital here can provide facilities for their type of work if they should establish themselves in this community.

The group as a whole was asked to do some thinking on the problems and obtain other views on the broad questions, including the financial side.

Another meeting will probably be called within 30 days, it was said.

During the trustee meeting earlier in the evening, the February report was presented by Miss Evans. It showed 290 admissions, 58 new born infants, 2005 total patient days, high census any day of 80 and low census of 56.

There were 63 major and 62 minor operations, 2,536 laboratory examinations, 746 X-ray exposures, 26,538 pounds of laundry, 7,856 meals served and 348 outpatients given service.

The board also approved its recent decision to proceed with construction of an underground reservoir for its water supply system. A contract was awarded to the G. D. Baker Co. of Columbus for a low bid of approximately 3,700.

By their own request the identity of the advisory committee members has never been made generally known. The members indicated a belief that by such a method they have a better opportunity to sample public opinion when necessary.

Final Tributes Paid Miss Edith Gardner

Final tributes were paid to Miss Edith Gardner at funeral services conducted for her at her home on Circle Avenue at 2 P. M. Monday.

Because of her deep interest in the Methodist Church, five of the high officials of the Ohio Conference came here to officiate at the services.

Dr. E. H. Dickey, superintendent of this district, who was in charge of the service, paid a personal tribute to Miss Gardner and delivered the funeral sermon.

Dr. Lester Roush, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Ohio Conference, told of Miss Gardner's love of her church and generosity in giving to it her home, four residence properties and farm to be used as a home for retired ministers and their wives.

Dr. W. L. Steffen, superintendent of the Springfield district came as the personal representative of Bishop Hazen Werner and read a message from him in which he extolled the virtues of Miss Gardner and expressed the gratitude of the church for her gifts.

Dr. John Dickhaut, superintendent of the Columbus district, paid a personal tribute to Miss Gardner.

Dr. Wilson offered the closing prayer and pronounced the benediction.

The pallbearers who also cared for the many floral tributes were Ralph Penn, Harold Craig, Howard S. Harper, W. Stanley Paxson, Andrew Craig, Frank Dawson, Donald Wood and O. M. Riegel.

The visiting clergy acted as the honorary pallbearers for the interment in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

The Carnegie Public Library was closed from 1 until 3 o'clock Monday afternoon for the funeral as a mark of respect and appreciation for Miss Gardner, who had been a member of the board for many years.

Sewer Cleaning Gets Attention

Big Improvement Is Noted Where Cleaned

Work of cleaning various important sewers here is now being done under the direction of Street Superintendent Clyde Smith.

When Highland Avenue sewer recently was given a thorough cleaning to East Street, and thence to the creek, or intercepting sewer, a great deal of refuse was taken from it.

The refuse included roots, cement, stones and a wide range of rubbish which had interfered with the free flow of the sewer.

For several days the crew has been utilizing the street cleaning equipment in cleaning the Washington Avenue sewer. It has been found to have been partly clogged with roots and debris.

Other sewers—including those on Main and North streets and Dayton and Leesburg Avenues—are on the program for attention during the next few weeks.

City Manager James F. Parkinson expressed the belief that the work will result in a great improvement in the functioning of all the main sewers which are given attention.

Part of the other sewers have received a cleaning during the past few years, but it is believed that some sewers on the program for cleaning this spring have not been functioning properly for years.

By reason of the urgent need for cleaning the sewers the work will be continued as rapidly as possible, Parkinson said.

Area Development Plans To Be Unveiled

After recovering from the surprise of receiving—and accepting—the resignation of Glen Allen, the secretary - manager, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce spent much of the remainder of their regular monthly meeting Monday night making plans for the annual meeting May 29 at the Country Club.

Highlights of the meeting will be the election of directors and the "unveiling" of a master plan for long range development of the Washington C. H. area.

The master plan, now being drawn up by students in Miami University's graduate School of City Design under the guidance of Prof. Rudolph Frankel, is expected to be completed in time for the meeting.

If everything goes according to plan, Prof. Frankel and half a dozen men who have been working on the plan for the past six months, will bring to the meeting about 30 maps and 15 charts that will show the city and surrounding area as it now is and as it would be under the master plan of development.

In planning to show these maps and charts, the board agreed that the best way would be to place them in groups of 10 to 15 on three walls of the Country Club dining room.

Two or three of the men who have been working on the plan are to be with each group of maps and charts to explain them and answer questions.

The final station of the tour around the room will sum up the plan to show the destination—"Our Future. . .1980."
